Counselling and information for parents of young people having to choose between school and career

Dear parents

- Does your child have difficulty finding an apprenticeship position or failed to complete the apprenticeship?
- How can you assist your child in choosing a school or career?
- Which offers are available for young people without a follow-up solution?
- How does the Swiss school and vocational training system work?
- Where can you seek further information and assistance?

Simply give us a call if you need answers to these and further questions. We would be happy to assist and inform you personally as well as by phone.

Our consulting services are free of charge.
